Just as the Maharashtra Government mandated low-key celebrations for the Ganesh Utsav in September this year, it has set restrictions for the Navratri festival too. Observing the spread of the disease and increasing number of cases, the Maharashtra and Gujarat governments have cancelled on-ground Garba and Dandiya gatherings for Navratri this year. As everybody is equipped digitally, many organizers and artistes have opted for virtual Navratri celebrations, aiming to give dance lovers a chance to enjoy Navratri this year, albeit in the confines of their homes.

Organisers will set up live performances with singers and instrumentalists either in studios, banquet

Various virtual Navratri celebrations include

1- Naidu Club Virtual Navratri 2020: The event is organised on the Korakendra Grounds with limited people as per Government rules, where aarti and Garbaare performed and broadcast live on online platforms like Zoom, YouTube and television channels.
