

Experience 'more' with Leisure hotels

In the cacophony of city life, it sometimes becomes important to pack up a bag and go get with Mother Nature, if for nothing then just to retain our sanity and if that break can be luxurious while being relaxing, well, consider you have hit the jackpot! So if that short break has been on your mind for long and wilderness holds a special 'wild' spot in your heart, book a luxurious room at the Riverview Retreat by Leisure Hotels and experience 'more' of everything. Here's the firsthand experience of my stay at the property.

Arushi Bajaj

Road trips can be fun if scheduled and executed aptly. It is always advisable to start early from home to avoid the traffic chaos and the sweltering sun. We started around eight and drove smooth through the NH 24. Take a break at a dhaba for a complete desi breakfast and continue to drive. We reached four in the evening and the weather was quite pleasant. The warm welcome and the welcome drinks were just the right energisers.

Relax in luxury

Jungle accommodation in The Riverview Retreat evokes a feeling of ultimate relaxation. Almost every room in the resort has a breath-taking view of the hills. The sloping tiled roofs, cool stone floors with throw rugs, and block wood furniture creates a wild natural ambience. This wildlife jungle resort in the Corbett National Park houses 62 bedrooms distributed among private villas of two, three, four bedrooms or independent and duplex rooms. The villas have private garden and entrances. The rooms are airy and very tastefully decorated with plenty of daylight. Shingle Style Villas at The Riverview Retreat, Corbett are the icing on the cake. Set in a picturesque locale with river flowing and surrounding forest inspired an interior setting that puts together all the elements that exist therein. The classic intimate interiors of this getaway echoes a home like feeling with its bold floral prints used lavishly on the inside as furnishings in sync with the outdoor landscaping that you can't be ignored. Big windows, crackling fireplace, tiled and wood flooring, stylish classic country furniture made with forest lumber clad in leather and weaves, pendants and ambient lighting to match the scape, modern fitted baths will make you want to linger longer to soak in the flavors of this forest land with the living, dining and kitchen opening onto the verandas and that envious intoxicating fresh air. It will be a perfect indoor outdoor experience for you. Simplicity and classic earthy elegance of space with modern
